FUTURE SKILLS FRAMEWORK FOR THE MALAYSIAN FINANCIAL SECTOR

Future-proofing talent for a sustainable workforce

The advancements in AI underscore the necessity of evolving and investing in our talent ecosystem to prepare for the workforce of the future.

Deputy Governor Adnan Zaylani Mohamad Zahid at the 3rd Malaysian Banking Conference 2024

The Future Skills Framework (FSF) is an industry initiative by the Asian Institute of Chartered Bankers (AICB), Islamic Banking and Finance Institute Malaysia (IBFIM), and Malaysian Insurance Institute (MII). It is featured as an integral part of the Financial Sector Blueprint 2022-2026 that was released by Bank Negara Malaysia in January 2022. It consists of four key components.

1 Key Findings

5 key findings as a result of 6 key trends impacting the workforce across 7 financial services sub-sectors

2 Job Roles and Skills

Details on 14 job clusters, 159 job roles and 157 skills that are aligned with the industry's needs for the next 3 years

3 Career Development Pathways

Potential career development pathways across different job roles

4 Capacity-Building

Relevant learning providers and programmes for the acquisition of necessary skills

Benefits of the FSF

FINANCIAL SECTOR EMPLOYEES AND JOB ASPIRANTS

Gain insights into the future skills that are required and the suitable capacity-building programmes for skills mastery and continuous learning.

FINANCIAL SECTOR EMPLOYERS

Gain clarity on how job roles will shift in size and nature, and as a result, better manage supply and demand. The FSF can serve as a guide for further validation and strategic planning.

CAPACITY-BUILDING PROVIDERS

Obtain guidance in developing relevant and practical curricula to more effectively support learners.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

Obtain guidance in formulating targeted development initiatives and provide input on further developing the workforce.
